P1 HTWRL General Photograph Collection Finding Aid

The HTWRL's image collection includes over 100,000 still images and photographic prints, slides, transparencies, and glass plate negatives, as well as lithographs, paintings, and other fine art.

The General Photograph Collection (identified as collection P1) is the largest photographic collection housed in the B&O Railroad Museum HTWRL. Most of the images were created by the B&O Railroad and the collection includes a significant number of photographs from the B&O's Public Relations Department. Many of these images were used in the B&O's Employee magazine. Over time, the collection has grown and photographs which have been donated to the Museum were incorporated into this collection.

The P1.22 and greater sections are called the B&ORRM Photograph Collection and consist of photographs relating to the B&O Railroad Museum since its inception in 1953. These photographs were either taken by the Museum or for the Museum for its various events, exhibits, and collections. This collection also includes the object file photograph collection for the museum extensive locomotive and rolling stock collection. It does not contain the photographs taken by museum staff relating to the roundhouse roof collection and reconstruction.

In some cases, it is difficult to trace the original donor and/or who holds copyright to these photographs. Anyone wishing to make copies within the HTWRL whether from original sources or published materials is required to adhere to all laws pertaining to copyright. Some materials may not include a formal statement of copyright but may still be protected by copyright law. Uses may be allowed with permission from the rightsholder, or if the copyright on the work has expired, or if the use is "fair use," or within another exemption. The user is responsible for ensuring permission to use has been obtained from the copyright holder prior to use and is accountable for lawful use or misuse.

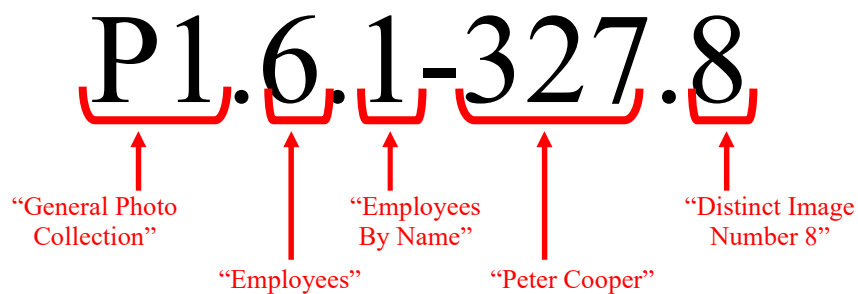

Interested researchers should contact the HTWRL. Please check the Fee Schedule for fees associated with using the library and duplicating its sources: <http://www.borail.org/fee-schedule.shtml>.
